

Invitation to the Art Award 2023

'Psyche, Kunst und Gesundheit' of the Forschungs- und Behandlungszentrum für psychische Gesundheit (FBZ)

of the Ruhr-Universität Bochum

Since 2018, the Mental Health Research and Treatment Center (FBZ) has awarded an annual art award of up to € 10,000. The FBZ is supported by the foundation Kleine Kunstdialog West / Ost in the invitation to tender for the art prize.

The interaction of psyche, art and health fulfills an important function in the psychotherapy concept of the FBZ and is understood as a significant element for the success of the psychotherapy facility. Every year, 3,000 children, adolescents and adults with mental disorders are treated here. The FBZ thus plays an important role in the care of people with mental problems in Bochum and the entire Ruhr region. In spring 2021, the Federal Ministry of Education and Research selected the FBZ as one of six locations for the future German Center for Mental Health (DZP).

The DZP bundles top interdisciplinary research in Germany in order to better recognize and treat mental disorders, which are among the major widespread diseases.

The FBZ is concerned with offering scientifically based psychotherapy in a context that is appreciative of people with mental disorders and does justice to their sensitivities. The Foundation Kleine Kunstdialog West/Ost supports artists and awards scholarships and art prizes. With extraordinary projects, the foundation wants to unite artists and art enthusiasts. The FBZ art award offers a new platform to artists who are still unknown as well as to well-known artists.

The jury for the award consists of five persons (FBZ directorate, FBZ outpatient clinic management, art experts). The Foundation Kleine Kunstdialog West/Ost carries out the call for entries and is also represented in the jury. The FBZ collection is networked with the art collection of the Ruhr University Bochum. The participants of the final round exhibit their works for two months at the FBZ. The artwork of the award winner will become part of the FBZ collection.

Conditions of Participation

All trained artists worldwide* are eligible to participate. It should be noted that the works in the treatment center are publicly accessible and patients have daily contact with them. Personal background and experience with psychological and psychotherapeutic treatments are not required and are not a prerequisite for participation. Former nominees may reapply. The application can be made in German as well as in English.
